Resources

PIAT – Pennsylvania’s Initiative on Assistive Technology!

Assistive Technology (AT) means devices and services used to increase, maintain or improve the capabilities of individuals with disabilities in all aspects of everyday life.

Providers and parents are encouraged to borrow AT from Temple’s Institute on Disabilities. Search the catalog here. The AT request form can be downloaded here.

P2P – Parent to Parent of Pennsylvania

This organization brings together parents of children with disabilities. An experienced parent serves as a mentor to other parents seeking individualized support. The organization also offers support groups for parents. See http://www.parenttoparent.org/ for more information or contact the regional office at 570-718-4662.

PA Releases Draft Child Care Development Block Grant Plan, which is the primary funding source child care programs. Comment on the CCDBG Plan by January 8th.
