

Preprints Perspectives

A Panel Discussion

Friday, October 23
12-1 p.m. EST

Register for the Zoom event:
library.jefferson.edu/ql/preprints2020

Celebrate Open Access Week with the Jefferson Libraries (Paul J Gutman Library & Scott Memorial Library). Join our four experienced panelists to discuss issues related to preprints and open access from a variety of perspectives.

PANEL WILL DISCUSS:

- How publishing preprints can benefit authors
- Current best practices for preprint servers
- Ethical and legal considerations regarding preprints
- The intersection of preprints and COVID-19 scholarship
- Your questions about preprints and open access

Register: library.jefferson.edu/ql/preprints2020

Questions? Email Larissa Gordon, Scholarly Communications Librarian, at Larissa.Gordon@jefferson.edu

PANELISTS:

John Inglis, PhD
Co-founder, bioRxiv & medRxiv

Tim Mosca, PhD
Assistant Professor & Principal Investigator of The Mosca Lab, Thomas Jefferson University

Iratxe Puebla
Associate Director, ASAPbio

Heather Rose, PhD, JD
Vice President of Technology Licensing & Startups, Thomas Jefferson University