Don’t Judge A Book by Its Cover...

You’re invited to attend the Human Library Event

What is the Human Library?
The Human Library offers the opportunity to ‘check out’ a 'live book’—a volunteer who has agreed to spend 30 minutes in 1:1 conversation with students, clinicians, and staff. Each volunteer book has experienced some form of discrimination (such as, intolerance, bigotry, inequity, or prejudice) because of who they are. Ask them questions so they can share their stories with you.

Check out one or more books. Feel free to attend the reception at the end of the event to share your experience.

The Human Library Organization has its roots in Denmark where it was started in 2000 as a way to help stem the tide of youth violence. The success of the program led to its implementation at schools and universities throughout Europe to help combat prejudice. Now it's taking hold in U.S. universities, and Thomas Jefferson University will host its second Human Library Event this year.

Join us for this unique program where we can challenge our own misconceptions (or, presumptions, apprehension, trepidation) and hear some interesting stories.

Human Library Book Descriptions: http://jdc.jefferson.edu/humanlibrary/1/
Human Library Reader Guidelines: http://jdc.jefferson.edu/humanlibrary/2/

REGISTRATION REQUIRED:
https://www.eventbrite.com/e/human-library-tickets-13384931691
(Password: HL)

WHEN: Thursday, October 30, 2014, 11am – 3pm
(register for one 30 minute slot during this time)
Discussion/reception from 3pm – 4pm

WHERE: Scott Library, 2nd floor

For further information, contact:
patricia.wynne@jefferson.edu